We, the people of Torrance Park, extend a hearty invitation to the people of Torrance and surrounding cities to go jack-rabbit hunting, or in fact hunting for all kinds of large game. The weeds and brush are very high and dense here.

The only thing we ask is that everybody wear white clothes so as not to get our lamp and sign posts dirty. We would also ask you not to drive your large touring cars here because they would ruin our paving. You know our paving was given us when we purchased our lots, and we wish to take care of it.

But all come, and if you don't strike poison oak or poison ivy or fall into a hole, we will ask you back again.

TED WERTZ.
